

February 3, 2010

NJPR Hospital and Medical Support Services located in Parsippany has acquired Normann Staffing Services of Paramus.

Normann Staffing Services has been a leader in both temporary and permanent staffing in northern New Jersey for over 40 years and will continue to operate under that name. Normann is well known for its personal services to a wide range of industries and businesses remains in place.

Since 1974, NJPR Hospital and Medical Support Services has provided medical transcription, coding, physician office billing, interim health information management staffing and utilization review to hospitals and physicians throughout New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania. Services are provided through long term assignments or on an as needed basis.

Barbara J. Parmese, President, NJPR stated the expertise and successful history of both businesses will allow for expansion into new markets for temporary and permanent staffing.

You can visit their websites at www.njpr.com and www.normannstaff.com for more information.